Sara Cloon's practice focuses on environmental litigation and regulatory compliance.

Sara is an environmental litigator. She counsels public and private clients on environmental remediation and cost recovery; water quality and water rights, emerging contaminants, and renewable energy development. She is experienced in resolving disputes arising under the Clean Water Act, RCRA, CERCLA, and other federal and state environmental laws. Prior to Marten, Sara worked on complex civil litigation at a private firm in Seattle.

Sara earned her Juris Doctor from Notre Dame Law School, where she was an editor of the Journal of Law, Ethics, and Public Policy. Before entering private practice, Sara clerked for the Honorable Chief Judge Thomas O. Rice of the Eastern District of Washington. She also served as a judicial extern for Justice Mary Yu of the Washington Supreme Court. Sara earned her bachelor's degree with honors in English and Studio Art from the University of Notre Dame.
